From The President

Valerie Johnson

I think we are now in week 10, or maybe it's 11, of the Stay at Home Order issued by Governor Wolfe. When this all started back in March I had no idea it would go on for this long and have such a significant impact on how we live our lives. My car told me the other day that I would need an oil change in 214 miles or 11 days. I think my car is using my driving habits before Covid-19 to figure this out. I currently drive about 5 miles per week, not 20 miles per day. I make one trip to the grocery store and maybe one other errand. I did a little bit of math and figured out that at this rate I won't need that oil change for approximately 42 weeks!

I don't know about you but I took for granted things like being able to get a haircut, shop at the stores of my choice and eat out at a restaurant if I didn't feel like cooking or wanted to celebrate a special occasion. All that has changed in the last two plus months. The good news is that the number of new cases of the virus seem to be decreasing and Lehigh and Northampton counties will likely enter the initial, yellow phase of reopening by June 5. Under the yellow phase, some businesses are allowed to reopen, but residents are still asked to wear masks and practice social distancing. Gatherings of more than 25 people are prohibited, schools are still closed and restaurants are still limited to curbside service and delivery.

What does that mean for the Crazy Quilter Quilt Guild? Holy Spirit Church, where we hold our monthly meetings, is looking at how and when they can reopen. There is nothing definitive at this point. For the time being we still need to look for alternative ways to connect. Some of you have joined the Virtual Show and Tell on Facebook and some have been posting things on the Crazy Quilter Facebook page. I know that all of you do not use Facebook. Maybe we should try meeting in one of the online formats like zoom? I think the best way would be to have someone to set up the meeting and invite all of our members via email. Anyone interested? Let me know! In the meantime, stay safe, stay healthy, stay sane and keep sewing!

The Crazy Quilters Quilt Guild
meets the first Tuesday of the month, 7:00 PM
The Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit
3461 Cedar Crest Boulevard
Emmaus, PA

QUILT CHALLENGE FOR JANUARY 2021

Judy Walker

Have you been thinking of the Challenge for this year? Flying Geese is the challenge and you need to have a minimum of 30 flying geese in your project. I've made a sample with 24 flying geese and in 4 different designs. Then I added 6 more flying geese which I sewed into the design. Flying geese are easy to make. The width needs to be twice as big as the height. 3 x 6, or 2 x 4 or 1 x 2. Below is a sample of some designs. This project is not quilted yet but will give you some ideas. More next month.

Raffle Quilt

Sue Marin

The Covid-19 virus has definitely had an adverse effect on ticket sales. But a few dollars here and there keep trickling in. Thanks to Sam Cetrulo for setting up Facebook posts for our latest virtual craft fair shows at Allentown Fiber Fest and Nicky's Heart of Gold Pediatric Cancer Fund Raiser, we were able to sell $30 worth of tickets. Another approach that I've found to be successful is linked to making face masks. Several friends asked me to make some for them and wanted to pay me for my materials and time. Most of the material I used early in the process was donated to me, and one of the clients bought a roll of elastic, so I decided that if customers wanted to pay me, they could do so by purchasing raffle tickets. This is a win/win for everyone. The Guild receives money to continue our programming, and the customers get masks plus the opportunity to win a beautiful, handmade quilt. To date, I've sold $70 worth of tickets. If you still have raffle tickets on hand, you may want to consider this approach.

For those members (old and new) who have not been able to pick up your tickets for this year (2019 - 2020), I will mail them out to you soon. If you have sold your tickets, please mail your check made payable to Crazy Quilters' Quilt Guild to me. Since our programming depends on membership dues and the raffle ticket sales, it is important that you submit everything to me by August 15, 2020 so that the officers and programming chair have a clearer idea of the funds available to move forward.

We are still scheduled to show the quilt at the Home Sewing Center in June, the Leesport Farmer's Market in July and the Allentown Art Museum in August. All of these are dependent on whether or not these areas of Pennsylvania are in the green phase and "open" again for business. I'm hopeful, but with the cancellation of the larger quilt shows, I am doubtful that they will be held. I'll keep everyone posted!

Thank you all for your part in selling tickets and volunteering at the various shows we were able to attend. I look forward to seeing everyone soon.

Virtual Show and Tell

Community Service

Kathie Laposata

Thank you for keeping me updated on the number of masks you have been making for the community. The current count is 3,576 masks, and I'd love to hear from you if you haven't checked in to let me know your contribution to this life-saving effort.

I'll repeat what I said last month. Camp Erin has been postponed for 2020 and Project Linus is not accepting children's quilts for any reason for the time being. The Veterans Administration is similarly not accepting any donations. Therefore, if you've made a quilt for one of these two projects, put it on a shelf for a later date. I'll let you know when donations are again being accepted. I'll still collect the Red/White/Blue nine patches for delivery to Quilts of Valor later this year.

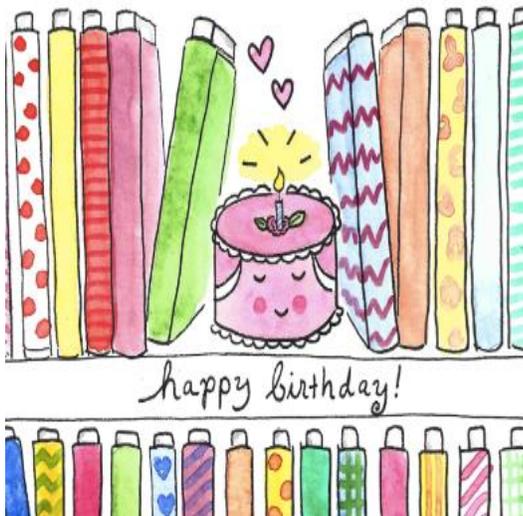

Finally, I've accepted the nomination to be Guild Treasurer, so the Community Service committee needs a new chairperson. If you enthusiastically support the great work our members do to help others, this is a position you will enjoy. I think it's the best job in the Guild. You get to appreciate first-hand the wonderful skill and generosity of our members and the gratitude of those we serve. Plus, you have the support of committee members, so you don't have to do it alone. Please give me a call if you are interested and want to discuss the duties. Thanks

Sunshine and Shadows

Jackie Leipter

A Get-Well card was sent to Marsha Heimann. She is recuperating after cataract surgeries. A Sympathy card was sent to Tami Jones on the recent death of her sister. Sadly her mother died in February.

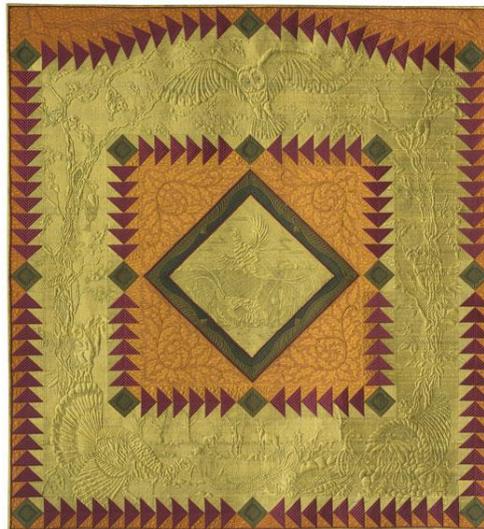

If you have any Sunshine or Shadow news email me .

The American Quilter's Society (AQS) has cancelled or postponed their shows. To continue to inspire quilters, they are sharing winner interviews, special exhibits and other highlights from past AQS QuiltWeek Shows. Bethanne Nemesh's beautiful quilts were exhibited in 2019. The link below will take you to her talk.

AQS EXHIBITS

Bethanne Nemesh's exhibit "Walk a Creative Path" at the 2019 AQS QuiltWeek Show in Lancaster provides a unique look at a quilter's creative journey. From her very first quilt to the award-winning quilts she makes today, listen as Bethanne shares the many things she has learned about quilting along the way.
